Research-informed and evidence-based

Grounded in educational research and the Flourishing Domains, the Flourishing Teacher Programme offers a structured, credible approach to professional development that supports both practice and wellbeing.

Sustaining teachers and school culture

Develop the clarity, confidence and professional agency to contribute positively to classroom practice and the wider school environment — without adding to workload or pressure.

Learn through collaboration and coaching

Engage in group coaching and peer dialogue that creates a safe, supportive space for reflection, shared learning and professional growth.

Meaningful, lasting impact

Make small but intentional changes to how you think, teach and relate – supporting sustainable impact for you, your pupils and your school.

Connect, reflect and grow together

Join a community of teachers committed to flourishing – strengthening relationships, deepening self-awareness and reconnecting with purpose and vocation.
